

Dating Violence: Identification and Prevention

Estimated Time to Complete: 20 minutes

Course Description

Every day, thousands of students are victims of dating violence. Dating violence harms its victims both physically and emotionally, leaving scars that last a lifetime. In recent years, experts have begun documenting the enormous impact dating violence has on our students, and colleges are beginning to implement training on the topic in response. SafeColleges' Dating Violence: Identification and Prevention course aims to increase campus staff member's awareness of teen dating violence.

Common Themes

- Understanding teen dating violence
- How to recognize signs of abuse
- Examining strategies to prevent teen dating violence
- Correct procedures to safeguard students

Author

Steve Holland is the founder and president of Holland & Associates, a Georgia-based consulting firm that provides safety & communications services to schools and businesses nationally. Steve is a former information executive and consultant with notable organizations such as The Thomson Corporation, Scenario Learning, and CNN. While at CNN, Steve was instrumental in the launch of CNNfyi.com, one of the nation's first Internet-based forums for teens.

Training Environments

SafeColleges is ideal for a blended learning environment, complementing in-service or video training, or as a stand-alone training course. The SafeColleges approach engages the learner in an e-learning environment while a Compliance Management System automatically tracks his/her progress through the courses. This assists the campus administrator or training coordinator in demonstrating compliance.

For a free evaluation, email info@safecolleges.com or call 1.800.434.0154.